

"I am writing to thank you for the service you have given to our company. We have, as you know, purchased our mobile phones from you for a while now during which time you have given us excellent service.

It is a pleasure when in the event of a difficulty that a business reacts like yours does, for example when i contacted you yesterday to ask about my hands free kit removing from my car to be fitted to a new car, without hesitation you arrange to start the job today, even though i had forgotten to give any notice of the work being required.

May I thank you for the above but also for the excellent products you have selected especially being the most suited to our company requirements."

Alan Moss, Chairman
Astonish Oil Refining

